Supporting Defence Trade Between Canada and the United States

Each year the Canadian Commercial Corporation (CCC) contracts for and manages approximately $1 billion in contracts with Canadian companies’ and the U.S. Department of Defense (U.S. DoD).

THE DEFENCE AND SECURITY EXPORT SALES ORGANIZATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

CCC is the Crown corporation of the Government of Canada (government-owned enterprise) that undertakes sales of defence and security technology and expertise from Canada on a government-to-government basis.

CCC AND U.S. DOD

CCC’s defence and security business is anchored in the Canada-U.S. defence trade relationship. For over 65 years, CCC has worked closely with U.S. DoD to support and strengthen the integrated North American defence industrial base.

CCC is specifically referenced in the U.S. Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS), providing Canadian companies with unique access to the largest defence market in the world.

Military acquisitions from Canada through CCC provides the U.S. DoD with the assurance, backed by the Government of Canada, that the contract will be fulfilled in accordance with its terms and conditions. As Prime Contractor, CCC endorses the Canadian proposal, issues a subcontract to the Canadian supplier whose proposal was selected for award and administers the contract.

CCC serves as the point of contact for U.S. DoD procurement officials and the Defense Contract Management Agency (DCMA) – Americas office located in Ottawa, Canada.

Purchases from Canada above the simplified acquisition threshold will be made through the Canadian Commercial Corporation.

ARE YOU THINKING OF ENTERING THE U.S. MARKET?

CCC works with Canadian companies and individuals to sell a wide range of defence and security technologies and services – from spare parts and components to systems and platforms.

Finding Potential Customers in U.S. DoD

Are there customers for your product/service in U.S. DoD? CCC, working with Canadian Trade Commissioners and other government partners, may be able to help you identify the buying commands or defence logistics agencies you might consider targeting.

Selling End-Users on Your Product/Service

Your local Trade Commissioner Service representative may also be able to use its network of colleagues throughout the U.S to help find key contacts and set up meetings for you. Go to Offices in Canada at www.tradecommissioner.gc.ca

Building Awareness of Your Product/Service

There are a number of established defence trade shows that target the U.S. DoD and these can be very effective. Learn more about how you can participate through the website of the Canadian Association of Defence and Security Industries (CADSI) and Aerospace Industries Association of Canada (AIAC). Go to CADSI International Events at www.defenceandsecurity.ca and AIAC News and Events at www.aiac.ca

Introducing New Technology to U.S. DoD

The Foreign Comparative Testing Program (FCT) is a U.S. DoD initiative that allows for the testing and evaluation of items and technologies by the U.S. armed services in order to satisfy U.S. defence requirements. The program is administered in Canada by the Department of National Defence. Go to Foreign Comparative Testing Program at www.materiel.forces.gc.ca

GET ACCESSIBLE, RELIABLE ADVICE

Whether your company is looking to explore sales to U.S. DoD or you are actively preparing proposals in response to U.S. DoD solicitations, CCC can provide advice on how the process works. Learn more about:

- Defence Production Sharing Agreement (DPSA)
- Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR)
- Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS)
- CCC’s role in U.S. DoD acquisition from Canada
- Understanding U.S. DoD solicitations
- CCC’s due diligence and price certification to secure endorsement
GETTING READY TO SELL TO THE U.S. DOD?
CCC has a knowledgeable and experienced team to advise you on registering to do business with U.S. DoD including:
- Getting your FSC/NAICS Code
- Getting your DUNs number
- Getting your SIC number
- Using www.sam.gov for U.S. Federal Contractor Registration
- Getting your CAGE and/or NCAGE Code
- Using www.FedBizOpps.gov to find opportunities
- Using the United States/Canada Joint Certification Program (JCP) to access unclassified technical data

If you know the U.S. DoD solicitation you intend to bid on, please contact CCC at info@ccc.ca.

PREPARING A PROPOSAL?
Once you have found a solicitation of interest and wish to pursue it, you may want help interpreting the solicitation. CCC can review the solicitation and help interpret the U.S. DoD documents.

CCC Endorsement of the Proposal to U.S. DoD
CCC will need to review your technical and financial proposal and your company’s audited financial statements to complete its due diligence before endorsing your proposal to U.S. DoD. CCC manages its risk by assessing the managerial, technical and financial strength of your company to perform the work of each solicitation you intend to bid on.

CCC Price Certification to U.S. DoD
CCC, through Public Works and Government Services Canada, provides U.S. DoD with an assessment that your costs or pricing contained in your bid are fair and reasonable and in-line with what the Government of Canada has paid/would pay for similar work. CCC will perform a price certification where a solicitation is not competitive.

LOOKING TO EXPORT TO DEFENCE MARKETS BEYOND THE U.S.?

CCC is the Crown corporation of the Government of Canada that undertakes sales of defence and security technology and expertise from Canada on a government-to-government basis.

If you think your international customer might be interested in an acquisition on a government-to-government basis, contact CCC to find out more about CCC’s Global Defence and Security Sales.

“CCC was a vital partner to establish credibility with the Colombian Ministry of National Defence. Since partnering with CCC, we have signed on to deliver a priority acquisition to the Ministry and are working toward a long-term relationship.”

Danny Deep, Vice-President, General Dynamics Land Systems-Canada

“When our company decided to explore opportunities in Peru and Malaysia, we sought assistance from CCC. They negotiated government-to-government contracts on our behalf, giving comfort to our new customers that they will get the goods, and providing us comfort that we will be compensated according to the contract.”

Robert Walsh, President and CEO, Forensic Technology Inc.
Mandate
CCC is a state-owned enterprise of the Government of Canada established for the purpose of assisting in the development of trade between Canada and other nations.

Mission
