Sell to the U.S. DoW

CCC is the U.S. Department of War designated contracting authority for acquisitions from Canada

We advocate to maintain the integrated Canada-U.S. defence industrial base and help Canadian businesses navigate and win in the complex DoW procurement market

Canada's G2G for DoW

As Canada's foreign military sales agency, we are funded by the Government of Canada to:

Strengthen Canada-U.S. defence procurement cooperation Under the U.S.-Canada Defence Production Sharing Agreement (1956).

Support an expanded defence supply base

Enhance DoW access to products and services from Canadian industry.

Reduce barriers to the contracting process

Enable Canadian businesses to sell their products and services to DoW.

Our government to government (G2G) contracting service provides Canadian businesses with the expertise and support they need to sell their products and services to the U.S. military.

Advantages of Canada's G2G

Be seen as a domestic supplier like a U.S. firm

Canadian companies are treated as domestic sources of supply, thereby giving your proposals equal consideration as U.S. firms.

Gain credibility from our endorsement of your proposal

We review your technical and financial proposal and perform a complete due diligence review to provide a Government of Canada endorsement of your proposal.

Get help to interpret tender documents

We answer your questions about DoW solicitations, help you interpret their documents and help you navigate to successful contract wins.

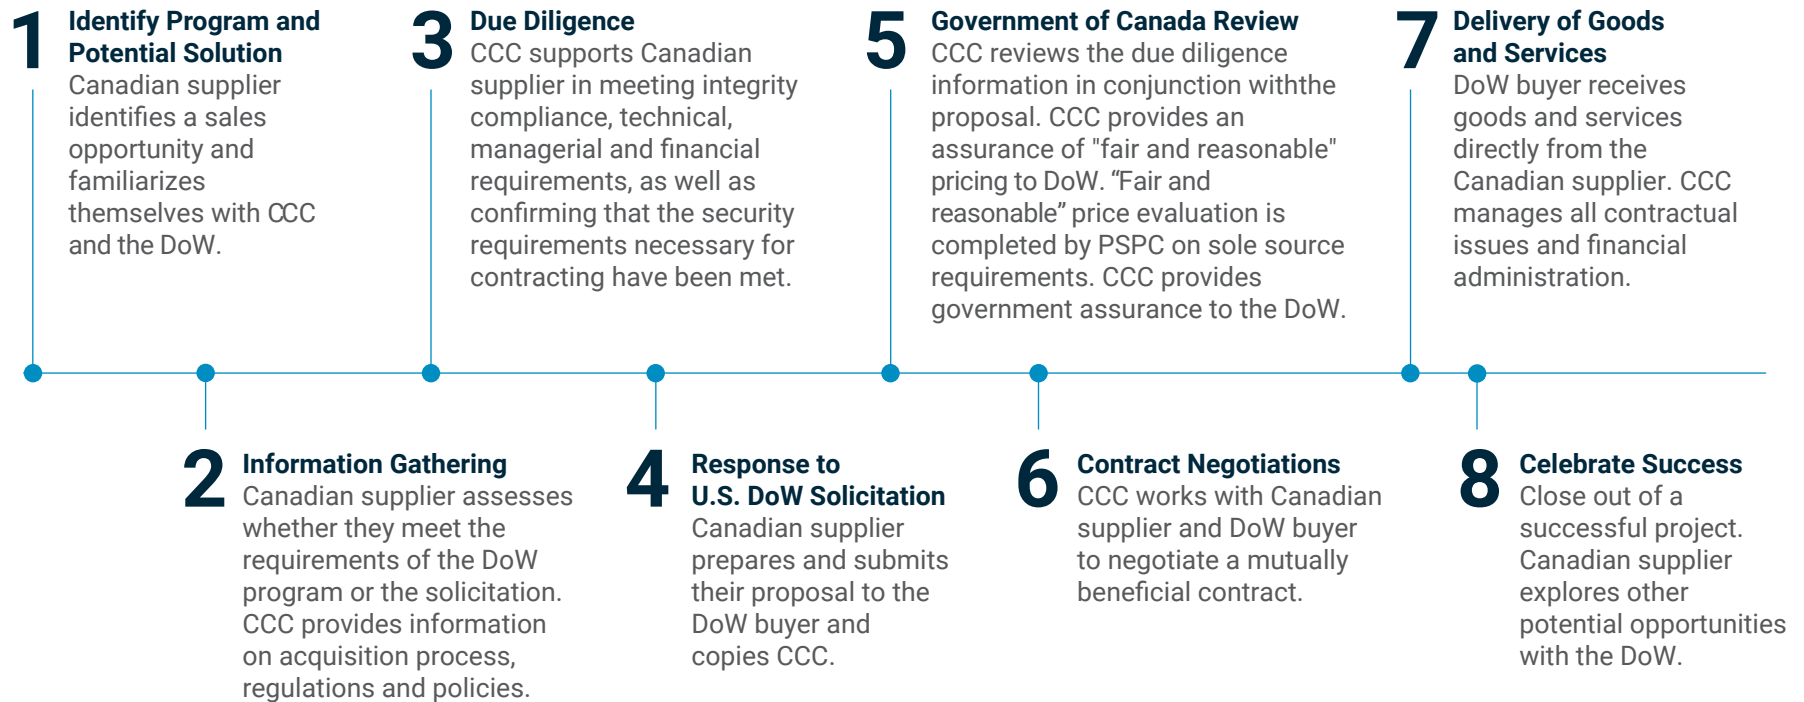

Simplify cost and pricing accounting

We certify that your price aligns with Canadian government cost and profit policy which eliminates the need to present cost and pricing data that conforms with U.S. accounting standards.

Get more support and advocacy

Leveraging our decades of experience, we help you find solutions to disputes or export challenges to ensure successful contract delivery.
